Stock Performance (indexed)

Wolford's financial year end is April 30. The first half of the financial year thus represents the period from May 1 to October 31.

Market review

In the first six months of the Wolford Group's financial year 2006/07 (May 1 to October 31), the European economy continued its upswing, underpinned by rising corporate investment and growing exports. Especially in Germany, Wolford's largest market, consumers' buying behavior clearly improved. For the 2006 calendar year, economists predict economic growth of 2.5 percent (2005: 1.5 percent) for Europe as a whole.*

In the United States there are increasing signs that economic growth is slowing. Nevertheless, consumer spending remains satisfactory. For 2006, market research institutions forecast U.S. economic growth of about 3.4 percent (2005: 3.5 percent).*

Sales

Against this backdrop, in the first half of 2006/07 the Wolford Group was able to continue the positive trend of the last financial year, expanding sales in the first six months by 13.1 percent to EUR 64.7 million from EUR 57.3 million in the year-earlier period. This growth was made possible by three years of consistent focus on the strategic realignment of the Wolford product portfolio, as well as by intensified brand communication. Besides numerous measures to boost the efficiency of sales and distribution, this sustained positive trend has been driven particularly by the tightly focused investments at the point of sale, the careful broadening of the product range especially in ready-to-wear and the new boutique design.

In the first six months of this financial year the Wolford Group achieved double-digit growth rates in most markets. Thus, in the highly competitive U.S. market, the company's sales grew by 35 percent. Similarly, Wolford pushed up sales revenues substantially in the U.K. (by 22 percent), Central and Eastern Europe (also 22 percent), the Netherlands (19 percent), Germany (16 percent) and Italy (11 percent). With an increase of 8 percent in the Scandinavian countries, 5 percent in the Austrian home market, 4 percent in France and 1 percent in Spain, sales in the other European markets too were on the rise. In Switzerland a trend reversal that began to emerge in the second quarter created a small sales increase for the first half of the financial year.

Earnings

The prime movers of sales in the reporting period were once again the Wolford-owned outlets (own boutiques, shop-in-shops and factory outlets), which together generated sales growth of 31.0 percent compared to the first six months of the prior financial year. Even on a like-for-like basis, Wolford recorded a considerable expansion of 12.5 percent in sales in this segment.

With a rise of 30.7 percent in revenues, the Wolford-owned boutiques in particular made a critical contribution to sales growth. The Wolford Group's sales with the partner-operated boutiques as well were up by 13.6 percent. All Wolford boutiques combined (both the Group's own and partner-operated ones) registered revenue growth of 23.6 percent.

Even better than the sales trend in the first six months of the financial year was the growth in earnings, which rose significantly across the board. Thus, the Austrian luxury label succeeded in nearly tripling operating profit (EBIT) from EUR 1.2 million in the first half of 2005/06 to EUR 3.6 million in the first six months of financial 2006/07. In the same period, EBITDA grew by 62.6 percent from EUR 4.1 million to EUR 6.7 million, increasing the EBITDA margin to 10.4 percent. Still more favorable was the result for profit from continuing operations, which rose to EUR 2.6 million, a more than fivefold increase.

The good performance of the Wolford Group in the first half of 2006/07 was also reflected in earnings per share, which more than quadrupled from EUR 0.13 to EUR 0.54.

New concept for stores

The success of the new store concept for Wolford boutiques and shop-in-shops at department stores was reflected in the sustained good revenue growth at most locations featuring the new look. They largely attained double-digit rates of increase in the first six months of the financial year. By October 31, 2006 the new design had been implemented at a total of 66 newly opened or made-over outlets, including 27 in the second financial quarter alone. Recent examples of the fresh concept are the new boutiques opened in top locations in Vienna, Dresden, Hamburg, Moscow and Sydney.

Fashion highlights

Looking at sales by product group, legwear and (comprising all outerwear) ready-to-wear performed impressively, with revenue growth in the double digits. Thus, brand sales in the ready-to-wear lines rose by 25 percent, legwear grew at a two-figure rate thanks to the current fashion trend, and lingerie was stable at the prior-year level. Wolford's high-end sweaters, knit ensembles, pants, skirts and textile accessories were very well received by retailers. Accordingly, advance orders for the spring/summer 2007 collection are showing a very strong trend and the new ready-to-wear products as well as fashionable legwear are proving highly popular.

Outlook

In the third quarter Wolford will continue to roll out the new store concept, with plans both to add new outlets and redesign existing ones. In following its strategy of controlled growth, Wolford intends to pursue a cautious regional expansion, for which it has already taken the first successful steps in Asia. As a result of the good order situation, the board expects sales for this financial year to grow to at least EUR 130 million and profitability to improve at a rate exceeding the pace of sales growth.
